Olson, Ausen Presented Person of the Year Awards

STEVENS POINT—Chris Olson, Door County Assistant Sanitarian, and Aaron Ausen of Dalmaray Concrete Products of Janesville were awarded Person of the Year awards on Jan. 29, 2010, during the Wisconsin Onsite Water Recycling Association and the Wisconsin Liquid Waste Carriers Association 2010 Joint Convention in Stevens Point, Wis. Olson and Ausen, members of the Wisconsin Onsite Water Recycling Association Board of Directors, were presented with the award from WOWRA for their dedication to the onsite wastewater industry and their efforts in advancing the industry during 2009.

Don Murphy, owner of Murphy's Septic Service, Eagle, Wis., and John Feyen, owner of Arcade Pumping of Ettrick, Wis., also were awarded Distinguished Service Awards from the Wisconsin Liquid Waste Carriers Association for their many years of service on the WLWCA Board of Directors.

More than 300 people turned out on Jan. 29-30 at the Holiday Inn in Stevens Point, Wis., for the Wisconsin Onsite Water Recycling Association and Wisconsin Liquid Waste Carriers Association 2010 Joint Convention. This event attracts hundreds of septic system installers, designers, manufacturers, pumpers, service providers, soil testers, engineers, soil scientists and regulators for two days of education and a trade show.

The 2010 Board of Directors were announced on Jan. 30 for each organization:
